From the Desk of the CEO

By Mindi Baker, CEO

This year will be another busy year on the Eventide Campus, with many goals to achieve in 2019. First and foremost, the number one goal is to meet or exceed the special needs of our residents, families, and employees. This is part of our mission statement and a prime focus when making daily decisions on campus. We will conduct satisfaction surveys throughout the year to gain more insight on how we are performing in this area. Of course, however, there is no need to wait until a survey to give us feedback as we are always open to your thoughts.

We are redesigning our website to make it even more user friendly in anticipation it can be used as a great resource tool in aging services. It will become mobile friendly and interactive for those interested in educational materials, campus updates and calendars. We are excited to add the capability for online donations, as well as a more functional employment application.

Staff will be focusing on business process management. With process management, the goal is to ensure we utilize available resources in the most efficient way to obtain desired results. We anticipate most of these changes will be 'behind the scenes' but we believe touches of the positive outcomes will be witnessed by many.

Leadership will host a formal strategic planning session in the early months of 2019 as we continue to work on our building project plans which include a replacement nursing facility and adding memory support assisted living. This project would be the most significant redevelopment and transformation in Eventide's history so we do not take this journey lightly.

Another focus this year is to continue building a quality workforce. We look to build an apprenticeship and work study program while we partner with other individuals and entities. We will work to educate and encourage others to see the rewards of working in our industry.

We have many more goals per building, per department, per employee to reach, but this is a highlight of the overall picture on campus. We are grateful for all we have accomplished in 2018 and are thrilled of what 2019 will bring!

Eventide Foundation Funds Education for Three Employees

The Eventide Foundation gives campus employees the opportunity for tuition assistance intended for career development and the pursuit of a higher education. Whether it is a little or a lot, the Eventide Foundation strives to do what they can to support the dreams of dedicated team members.

In November, it was announced that two Eventide LPNs, Marilyn Velasquez and Angela Aldana, were all granted tuition assistance to take a course needed for the RN program. Additionally, Eventide CNA, Arielle Pedersen, received tuition assistance to become a Certified Medication Aide. The Eventide Foundation chose to fund these efforts to further support their desires to continue education and secure increased responsibility and growth within their professional careers.

"Furthering my education gives me the opportunity to broaden my patient care and enhance my skills. I consider it a true privilege to be able to care for people," said Velasquez. The common theme among the applications received was the residents - the reason they strive to be more knowledgeable healthcare professionals. The foundation is confident that investing in each of these ladies will give an exceptional return on that investment for the entire Eventide Community. We look forward to seeing them advance their careers for the benefit of the elders in our community.

A special thank you to the current Eventide Foundation Board of Directors for this added benefit to employees on the Eventide Campus. These Board Members include Jim Lohman, Norma Petersen, Tonya Eller, Scott Brus, and Larry Boeck. We appreciate the support of the Tuition Assistance Program and the new opportunities this may bring our campus

Beat the Cold and Stay Healthy

Submitted by Kara Webb Monson, RN, Silveridge Assisted Living Manager

The winter months can be difficult for all of us... but they do not have to be! There are ways we can try to stay healthy when the temperatures drop to sub-zero.

Even with all of today's technology and advances in medicine, the reason the flu is more prevalent in the winter months is still unclear. An obvious theory is the return of children to schools which is basically an opportune congregation of a variety of pathogens which are then in turn brought home and passed along. We then potentially carry them with us to other common places, such as the supermarket, the local café, and even to our place of work.

While this still does not explain how the pathogens reached the children in the first place, it is obvious why it is important to try and focus on preventing their transmission. For a pathogen to pass on to someone else there actually is a quite complex cycle that must occur. If any part of that cycle is broken, the pathogen is unable to be transmitted.

- First we must have the organism, which in this case I'll use Influenza A.

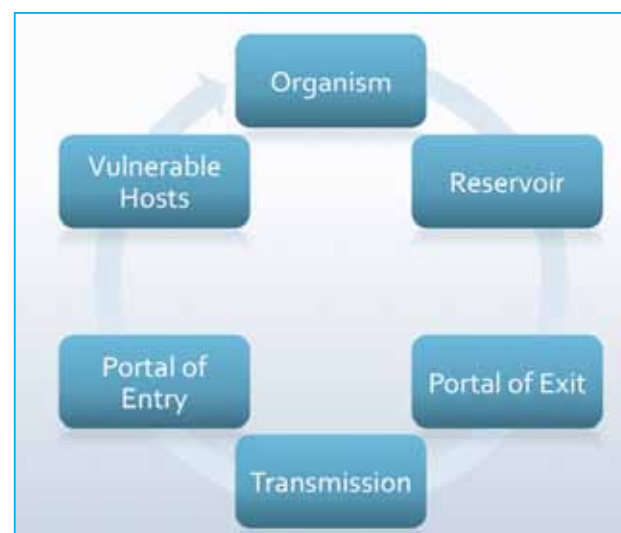

- Next we need a reservoir, or carrier, of the organism. We'll call her Sally.

- The organism needs a way out of Sally in order to infect someone else. I'm going to use Sally's mouth and nose. Sally covers her mouth and nose as she sneezes into her hands while eating lunch at the local buffet.

- After sneezing, Sally decides she wants to dish up a bowl of ice cream before leaving. She takes a clean bowl from the stack and uses the handle on the ice cream machine to load it up. Influenza A is now on the handle of the ice cream machine.

- Bobby is in line to get ice cream after Sally. He puts his hand on the handle and loads up his bowl. Influenza A has now been transmitted to Bobby's hand without his realization.

- Bobby sits down at his table and realizes he filled his bowl a little too full and it's overflowing. He takes his finger and wipes the excess and licks it from his finger. The pathogen now has its portal of entry.

- Bobby's immune system hasn't seen this particular pathogen before and he didn't have his flu vaccine yet, so the pathogen has found its vulnerable host. The chain of infection is complete and Bobby is now infected with Influenza A.

If just one part of this cycle would have been broken, Bobby wouldn't have been infected. If Sally would have sneezed into her elbow instead of her hand, for example. Or say she didn't, but Bobby would have washed his hands after getting the ice cream or refrained from using his finger to wipe up the excess on the bowl and instead used his spoon. This time of year, it is crucial to always be mindful of what could be lurking on surfaces and practice good hand hygiene. After all, handwashing is the number one way to prevent transmission. Unfortunately, unless science or God create a pathogen-free Earth, we will always need to protect ourselves from everyday illnesses. Because many forms of bacteria are beneficial, we actually would not want that to occur. As demonstrated with Sally and Bobby, illnesses can be spread pretty easily. Simply by educating yourself and your loved ones on methods to prevent the transmission of harmful organisms could mean the difference between a bad winter and a good one. I hope even just one bit of this information was a good reminder of how easy that can be. I wish you all a blessed New Year! Do not forget to check on your elderly neighbors frequently during these frigid upcoming months!

Welcome to the Team Sara!

Please help us to welcome Sara Hansen to the Eventide campus family. She has recently joined the Silveridge team as a support RN, taking on a combination of floor and administrative duties.

"I was immediately drawn to Sara's caring nature and big heart. She has a contagious smile and is kind to everyone she meets. She brings with her a positive energy, attention to detail, love for our seniors, appreciation for teamwork and an ability to stay calm in what could be stressful situations. She's a great addition to the Silveridge leadership team," said Kara Monson, RN, Assisted Living Manager.

Sara was born and raised in Arion, Iowa and graduated from Boyer Valley School district with the class of 2013. Sara completed her education with York, Northeast Community College and Midland University graduating with a bachelor's degree in nursing.

Sara's mother is a nurse and grew up around long-term care communities. She always knew she wanted to go into nursing. When she is not working, she enjoys spending time with family, enjoying the performing arts, reading, sports and animals.

Sara's favorites parts about Silveridge and the Eventide Community thus far are getting to know the tenants she cares for each day and the co-workers she has come to know.

Some other healthy tips for winter:

1. Know when to stay home. If you have a fever (100 degrees +), are vomiting, or have loose stools is it best to stay home! Practice good hand hygiene and use disinfectants on common surfaces.
2. Drink extra fluids. Our body's thirst is drastically reduced when the weather is cold. Do not confuse this is a lack of need for hydration. The average adult should consume eight 8 oz glasses of water each day unless contra-indicated.
3. Winter air is dry so it's important to keep skin hydrated. Our skin is the largest organ of the body. One of its most important roles is it protects us. During colder months our skin can become dry resulting in cracks or openings. These tiny openings are potential portals of entry for pathogens. By using a daily lotion or moisturizer we can help prevent this.
4. Stay up to date on vaccines
5. Maintain a balanced diet
6. Keep in touch with family and friends and be sure to get a little sunshine every day. Cold winter months can sometimes bring about seasonal emotional and psychological problems. It is important to stay social and to get your daily supply of Vitamin D. Do not be afraid to reach out to your health care provider if you are feeling blue.

Happy New Year!

Submitted by Robin Schiltz,
Eventide Activity Director

It is hard to believe it is already 2019! We had another wonderful year in 2018 as Tamara & Connie continue to knock it out of the park with new activities! Our residents went on many outings last year such as a YellowSmoke Fishing Trip, Swan Lake, Crawford County Fair, the Holy Family Shrine and many more. Plans for 2019 locations are already in the works! We are also hoping to incorporate people from the community to come and share their talents, collections, travels, etc., with us! If you are interested, please call me at 263-3114, ext. 233.

As always, I want to thank you all for so many acts of kindness! We had a tremendous number of entertainers & carolers in December, as well as groups delivering treats and presents! Thank you to our volunteers, we could not do what we do without you! Thank you to the clergy who take such good care of our people, and remind us of the importance of God in our lives! And most of all, thank you to the families for sharing your loved ones with us! You too, are part of the Eventide family!

Here are a few things in the works for the next 3 months, with many more to come! Have a super New Year and God's blessings!

DONATIONS

EVENTIDE FOUNDATION

The Eventide Foundation is a non-profit, tax exempt charitable corporation formed to collect gifts of money and assets to help off-set the expenses of caring for the elderly. Funds collected by the Foundation are used to supplement the increasing costs of personal care and to provide amenities to residents that would not otherwise be available. As you plan your estate and gift endowments, we ask that you consider a gift to the Eventide Foundation. A contribution to the Foundation allows us to provide a fuller quality of life to our residents. The Foundation needs your help to continue the work of Eventide and to ensure that each of the residents can live out their life without loss of dignity or respect. We sincerely appreciated all the gifts that have been designated to the Eventide Foundation! The following list reflects gifts received during the period of September 22, 2018 through December 28, 2018.
