Gracewell

An Eventide Community

As we look forward to the year 2022, we anticipate reaching one of the largest milestones in Eventide's history as we prepare to move to our beautiful new nursing facility. As we near the final months in our currently facility, I cannot help but reminisce about all the changes over the years, the memories made, the joy and laughter that occurred through the halls, and a place many have found as comfort in the time it was needed most. As we continue to cherish those memories, we are truly excited to experience the benefits our new nursing facility will bring.

As the Eventide Campus continues to develop, we want to make sure each building has its own unique identity. With the opening of the new building on campus, Eventide Leadership is excited to announce the new nursing facility will be named Gracewell, An Eventide Community. Our Campus name will remain Eventide. This does not take away from the fact that the building itself is in Memory of Frances & Wally Lauridsen. You will see this memorial information on the exterior of the facility, and within as well.

Why Gracewell?

Gracewell is derived from the words 'grace' and 'well', and the careful consideration of those words and its combination is a reflection of our goals and direction we have for the Eventide Community. In everything we strive to accomplish, our faith-based creation and mission are at the forefront.

Grace means all of the things we want to see in humanity. It means empathy, compassion, courtesy, dignity, and respect. It is about making the right decisions when no one is looking. Simply put, grace is all that is good about working with people. Because of the Grace of God, we are able to show grace to others.

To experience grace, wellness must a priority. We shall care for each other's wellbeing physically, mentally, and spiritually. Gracewell will encourage residents and team members to be mindful of their well-being and live their lives with purpose and meaning. Grace well with us.

What is Next?

We will slowly incorporate the Gracewell name, but it will take time. You will see the Gracewell name incorporated in the new building and eventually on marketing materials as we educate others of the name.

The Eventide Campus continues to offer the same great services in environments best suited for the needs of our community. Gracewell will be the new nursing facility, Silveridge is our Assisted Living Facility, in addition to the two apartments on campus. Realife Cooperative and Heritage Heights offer independent living apartments, with an offering of lower-income housing at Heritage Heights.

'Tis the Season

Eventide residents and employees celebrated the Holiday season all month long by participating in the 12 Days of Christmas! They donned their favorite Christmas Sweaters, crafted gingerbread houses, exchanged cookies, and passed out random acts of kindness and presents of course! Thank you to all those who made the Residents' Christmas extra special!

Realife Cooperative - A Unique form of Home Ownership.

Submitted by Resident Services Manager,
Shannon Cose

What is Senior Cooperative Housing?

Senior Cooperative Housing is a living option that offers seniors age 62 and over independence and social interaction without the routine upkeep, maintenance and expenses of home ownership. The Members of the cooperative own a share of the community with an equal voice in how the community operates. The cooperative holds the community's master mortgage and residents purchase a share of the cooperative with the right to occupy their unit within the community. In addition, there is a monthly payment to cover all maintenance costs and repairs. Although residents do not assume personal liability for the master mortgage they receive the tax benefits of home ownership, and are entitled to a deduction on their income tax return for their share of property taxes as well as interest on the mortgage. Each cooperative share appreciates in value on a limited basis of 1% per year. Members will gain on their investment, while keeping units affordable to new residents who are interested in purchasing an available share.

A senior cooperative operates according to a set of bylaws and agreements that are monitored by an elected Board of Directors. Each unit or share has one vote, and only residents of the Cooperative may serve on the Board of Directors.

Why Realife might be the right retirement choice for you.

We all dream of the freedom of retirement. No work, less stress, less responsibility and more time to do the things we really love. If you own a home, you may lose that sense of freedom and find yourself shoveling snow, replacing the roof or fixing the plumbing instead of enjoying your retirement!

Realife Cooperative offers a worry-free lifestyle. Cooperative living takes away the stress and burden of all home repairs and maintenance. Spend less time mowing the lawn or shoveling snow and more time doing what you truly enjoy! You don't have to worry about those unexpected repair bills because at Realife, your monthly payment will cover those expenses.

You won't feel like you are downsizing at all with our 11 different floor plans ranging from 659 square feet to 1350 square feet. Living at Realife is very affordable with share costs ranging from $22,967.93 to $53,365.16 and monthly charges ranging from $530.00 to $1125.00.

What is covered in the monthly charge?

- Principal, Interest and Mortgage Insurance Premium
- Real Estate Taxes
- Electricity, Heat, Water/Sewer, Garbage Collection
- Cable TV
- Lawn Care and Snow Removal
- Repairs and replacement of fixed items in your apartment such as carpet, appliances, and heating and cooling systems etc.
- And much more!

If you are ready to make a change to a worry-free lifestyle, give us a call today and learn more about what Realife has to offer for you. For more information or to schedule a tour call our Resident Services Manager Shannon Cose at 712-263-8169.

The Value of Traditions

Submitted by Kara Webb, RN,
Director of Assisted Living

For many families, traditions carry an irreplaceable value. They are often present in milestones, holidays... even everyday life. No matter the ritual, they seem to bring a sense of peace, familiarity and comfort. Whether it is wearing the same socks for a basketball game because they are lucky, or doing the nightly bedtime tuck-in and prayer with your littles, or getting to have scrumptious cupcakes from Sister-Sweets on your birthday each year, or reading 'Twas the Night before Christmas to your grandkids on Christmas Eve... traditions are born, carried on and passed on from generation to generation.

At Silveridge we acknowledge the importance of tradition.

Cronk's Café was established in Denison in 1929 and was a staple in our community for many years. It served homemade dishes to its patrons year after year, often being the go-to establishment for after-church family brunches or holiday meals. When Cronk's closed in 2020, its owners Eric and Terri Skoog identified the symbolism the Angus Room Christmas tree had to the community and did not want to let that disappear. They decided to donate the tree to Silveridge so it could continue to be enjoyed by Denison residents for years to come. Our tenants, staff and visitors now enjoy it each season in our main dining room.

LaGene Webb, Silveridge tenant, began collecting Department 56 Christmas Village pieces in the early 90s when her children were looking for gift ideas to celebrate her birthday, which she happens to share with Jesus. The village was displayed every year in her home and enjoyed most by her grandchildren who would look at the lighted details in awe knowing they did not dare touch any if they wanted to live to see another Christmas. When LaGene left her home and relocated to Silveridge 3 years ago she was saddened to realize she would no longer have room to store and display her 57 piece village. Instead, she gifted it to me, her granddaughter, and it is now displayed each December in one of the Silveridge living rooms, and remains to be admired by everyone who looks at it.

LaDonna Maas who was a Silveridge tenant from 2011 until 2016 spent her entire married life collecting nativity scenes. When she came to Silveridge in 2011 she began displaying the collection of over 100 nativities for Silveridge tenants and families to enjoy over the holidays. After her passing in 2016, LaDonna's daughters wanted to keep the spirit of LaDonna and her tradition alive, and donated her largest nativity scene to Silveridge. It continues to be displayed each year. Tenants and staff who knew and loved LaDonna look at it every holiday season and remember her witty sense of humor and love for tradition.

There tends to be misconceptions that if there are changes within a family, whether that be a move or the loss of a loved one, traditions are lost. I feel these three examples prove that traditions are upheld when those who cherish them refuse to give up on keeping them alive. Traditions can be started by anyone, no matter your significance within the circle of people you want to have them with, and they can be carried on by anyone who chooses to honor their importance... even if the traditions were born originally your own to start with. If you have not begun any traditions within your own family, I encourage you to start. If you are worried about a tradition being lost, take it upon yourself to ensure it is continued. The feelings they bring and the memories they create are something you can carry with you for years to come.

Happy New Year Everyone!

Submitted by Robin Schiltz,
Eventide Activity Director

Boy oh boy, it is going to be a happy 2022! We are all very excited about preparing for the move to the new building! Activities will pretty much revolve around helping our Residents prepare for the move and pack, and then, helping them adjust to their new home.

We will continue to have smaller activities during this time frame, but of course you know we cannot cancel bingo! (Ha! Ha! Ha!) We will continue to meet the psycho-social needs of everyone to the best of our ability during this time frame!

A quick note to families of our Residents. One of the most helpful things that you could do to help prepare for the move, would be to sort through clothes, decorations and drawers with your family member to 'lighten the load' of the move. For those of you who are unable to assist with this, rest assured that we are definitely here to help!

I also want to take this time to give a huge shout out to the Mission team of the United Church of Christ, Schleswig, the employees of CCMH, and the staff at Eventide, for ensuring that our Residents had a very, Merry Christmas! The presents were fabulous, and there were smiles galore throughout the Christmas celebrations!

Thank you to the many volunteers who have been able to help with screening our visitors, and for helping with Activities! It has been a long couple of years, and it is definitely a challenge to get back into the swing of things, but we could not do it without all of the community support we have received!

Stay tuned for more exciting news from the Activity Department, and the rest of the Eventide campus! May 2022 bring you all joy, good health, and much happiness!

Ways to Make Someone Smile

Submitted by Morgan Saunders, Social Worker

It is no secret 2020 and 2021 have been hard on the residents and tenants as we have gone through the pandemic and constantly changing restrictions. Although things are looking up, we wanted to compile a list of things you can do to help give a smile to the residents and tenants on the Eventide Campus, even from afar.

1. Send a note or card just saying hello and you are thinking of them. Give your loved one an update with all family member's activities, jobs, etc.
2. Encourage children to paint them a homemade picture they can hang in their room.
3. Send flowers! In Denison, A Country Rose or HyVee delivers.
4. Send their favorite snack item. HyVee delivers food, too!
5. Plan a video chat. Call Activities or Social Services to setup a time.
6. Create and send a custom calendar or photo book with family photos for your loved one's room or apartment.
7. Give them a gift card for a little pampering at the Beauty Salon on campus. Call Tina in the Business Office for details, (712) 263-3114, ext. 224.
8. Create a joyful door decoration for their room or apartment door.
9. Bring in old pictures to reminisce with your loved one.
10. At the time of this writing, visitors of all ages are welcome to visit, and the residents and tenants are able to go out of the building with family members.

Advance Directives

Submitted by Amy Schultz,
Eventide Administrator

I recently attended a conference and had a very good education on the three advanced directives that Iowa recognizes. I believe these directives are something every adult should think about and make some decisions earlier rather than later about the care they may want or may not want to receive.

In Iowa a 'durable power of attorney' for healthcare means a document authorizing an attorney in fact to make health care decisions for the principal if the principal is unable, in the judgment of the attending physician to make health care decisions. The 'attorney in fact' is the person who is designated. The 'principal' is a person 18 or older who executed the power of attorney. And 'health care' refers to any care, treatment, service, or procedure to maintain diagnose, or treat an individual's physical or mental condition.

The phrase 'durable' ensures the power of attorney is not in effect when signed, but rather becomes effective when the judgement of the person is impaired and is unable to make their own healthcare decisions. It is important for family members or the attorney in fact to understand their authority does not start until the person cannot make decisions for themselves according to physician judgement.

The medical opinion of the physician should be in writing and kept in the medical record of the resident.

When signing a healthcare POA, one of two things need to happen; 1) it is signed by at least 2 people, in the presence of each other and the principal, or 2) or signing is acknowledged by a notarial officer. Iowa law prohibits an employee of health care provider that care for the principal on date of execution from being a witness to the DPOA. Also, a health care provider or employee of health care provider, on date of execution, may not serve as attorney in fact unless the individual designated is related to the principal by blood, marriage, or adoption. The other thing to keep in mind, is that resident must have 'capacity' to know what they are signing, so it is important to think of such directives earlier rather than later.

A healthcare durable power of attorney can be revoked at any time and in any manner the principal is able to communicate without regard to mental or physical condition. Revocation can be completed by notifying the attorney in fact orally or in writing. It also can be completed by notifying the health care provider who is providing care to the principal orally or in writing. This may get sticky if the resident has dementia, because once the DPOA is revoked, they may not have the capacity to sign a new DPOA, which may leave families with little choice except guardianship.

The Durable Healthcare Power of Attorney allows for a primary and a secondary attorney in fact. There is no limit for the number of people who can be assigned to attorney in fact, but there may be more problems or disputes in decision making with the more people involved.

The second advanced directive to talk about is the living will. The 'living will' is a written document authorizing a health care provider to withhold or withdraw life sustaining procedure in certain cases. A 'life sustaining procedure' could be a medical procedure, treatment or intervention which utilized mechanical or artificial means to sustain, restore, or supplant a spontaneous vital function, and which serves only to prolong the dying process. A living will is only effective when a resident is diagnosed as being terminally ill and not able to take part in the medical decision-making process.

Life sustaining procedure does not include administration of medication or performance of any medical procedure necessary to provide comfort care or alleviate pain. Life sustaining procedures authorizes withholding nutrition and hydration when it is provided intravenously or by feeding tube.

Witnesses to a living will cannot be 1) a health care provider attending the declarant on the date of execution or 2) employee of health care provider attending the declarant on the date of execution.

When the attending physician declares the declarant with a terminal condition, this decision must be confirmed by another physician. The determination must be recorded in the declarant's medical record.

The living will declaration may be revoked at any time and in any manner by which the declarant is able to communicate their intent to revoke, without regard to mental or physical condition. It is only effective to the attending physician to whom it is communicated by declarant. The attending physician then needs to make this a part of the person's medical record.

The living will also provides a process for decision making in absence of a resident making end of life decisions. In the absence of a living will declaration, life sustaining procedures may be withheld or withdrawn from a patient who has a terminal condition if there is consultation and written agreement for the withheld or withdrawal of life sustaining procedures between attending physician and the following individuals in the order of priority: 1) attorney in fact; 2) guardian; 3) spouse; 4) adult child; 5) parent; 6) adult sibling.

A living will standardized form that complies with Iowa's law has been prepared by the Iowa Bar Association and is available online. Also available online is a standardized form that combines both the living will and durable power of attorney for health care.

The third and final advance directive is an Out of Hospital Do Not Resuscitate (DNR) order which is set forth in Iowa code 144A.7A. These DNRs are limited to residents who are in a terminal condition. A health care provider may withhold or withdraw resuscitation outside a hospital consistent with a do not resuscitate order. A DNR order shall not apply when a patient is in need of emergency medical services due to a sudden accident or injury resulting from motor vehicle collision, fire, mass casualty, or other of sudden accident or injury which is outside the scope of the patient's terminal condition.

A DNR can be revoked at any time a patient or an individual authorized to act on patient's behalf is able to communicate in any manner the intent that the order to be revoked without regard to mental or physical condition of the patient.

Family wishes or other individuals who are not authorized in the order to act on behalf of the resident shall not supersede a valid out of hospital do not resuscitate order.

To be compliant with nursing home standards, a nursing facility must have an acknowledgement signed by the resident or legal surrogate requesting that a DNR order be issued. This document should be maintained in the clinical record. A written order for DNR also must be obtained from attending physician and maintained in resident record.

The facility will maintain policies in which a DNR is an order that directs in the event of cardiac or respiratory arrest no CPR measure will be initiated. In the event of cardiopulmonary arrest, 911 will be called and CPR will be initiated, unless there is either evidence of irreversible death or the resident had valid DNR order issued by attending physician and is located in resident clinical record.

Target Practice

Eventide Residents had a little extra fun while decorating for Christmas. There were many smiles and much laughter as they 'hunted the wildlife' with Nerf Guns. A big thanks to our Activity Department for making life fun!

DONATIONS

EVENTIDE FOUNDATION

The Eventide Foundation is a non-profit, tax exempt charitable corporation formed to collect gifts of money and assets to help off-set the expenses of caring for the elderly. Funds collected by the Foundation are used to supplement the increasing costs of personal care and to provide amenities to residents that would not otherwise be available. As you plan your estate and gift endowments, we ask that you consider a gift to the Eventide Foundation. A contribution to the Foundation allows us to provide a fuller quality of life to our residents. The Foundation needs your help to continue the work of Eventide and to ensure that each of the residents can live out their life without loss of dignity or respect. We sincerely appreciate all the gifts that have been designated to the Eventide Foundation! The following list reflects gifts received during the period of September 25, 2021 through December 30, 2021. In publishing a list of so many names, it is possible that we may have misspelled, omitted or otherwise listed your name incorrectly. If so, please notify the Foundation office at (712) 263-3114 so that we can make the necessary corrections. Thank you.

EVENTIDE FOUNDATION ENDOWMENT FUND

When you donate to a permanently endowed fund at a qualified community foundation, you are not only helping your neighbors today — you are building a stronger community tomorrow. And while that in itself is rewarding, with Endow Iowa, you will also get back for giving. You will be eligible to receive a 25% tax credit for each donation, in addition to any federal tax benefits you may qualify for. Contact the Omaha Community Foundation at (800) 794-3458 for more information on how Endow Iowa is helping donors do good works within the community, forever. If you are interested in donating, please make checks payable to the Eventide Foundation Endowment Fund and send them to The Omaha Community Foundation at 302 South 36th Street, Suite 100 in Omaha.

Join us for Monthly Alzheimer's Caregiver Support Group

The Alzheimer's Caregivers Support Group meet the first Tuesday of each month, at 1:30pm in the Heritage Heights Community Room located at 118 South 20th Street in Denison. Join us for a gathering of caregivers, family and friends of persons with Alzheimer's who meet to discuss issues related to Alzheimer's disease. We exchange practical information, problems, and solutions to the day-to-day struggles of caregiving. We work through feelings experienced while being a caregiver. Eventide acknowledges that caring for your loved ones with Alzheimer's can be hard and we want you know to know you are not alone. Everyone is welcome! If you would like to be included in the reminder mailing, or notified of meeting changes, please call Lynette Croghan at (712) 263-3114, ext. 228.

Halloween Happiness

Eventide Residents were treated to a costume parade thanks to the Imagination Station, family and friends! From Heros to Princesses, the smiles were endless!

Resident Rights

Respect and dignity: The resident has a right to be treated with respect and dignity, including:

- r. The right to share a room with his or her roommate of choice when practicable, when both residents live in the same facility and both residents consent to the arrangement.
- s. The right to receive written notice, including the reason for the change, before the resident's room or roommate in the facility is changed.
- t. The right to refuse to transfer to another room in the facility, if the purpose of the transfer is:
